

We all need heroes. Real world heroes and stories about heroes have been important parts of culture around the world throughout time.

Heroes have many roles. They:

- Nurture us
- Help us understand right and wrong
- Save us when we're in trouble
- Pick us up when we're down
- Solve problems
- Entertain us,
- Deliver justice
- And give us hope

We all dream of being a hero in our own stories. Caped Crusaders & Everyday Heroes will give you that chance!

Everyone already has the potential to be a hero, so take the leap into this exhibition's fascinating artwork and fun activities to let your imagination take you on a journey to make that dream come true.

What is your superpower? We bet you have many!

- Can you run a marathon?
- Climb a mountain?
- Studying for a good grade in your Math Class?

In the exhibition, enjoy many activities. Start by creating your own superhero. Choose what their power may be, what they wear and abilities, such as learning to fly. Then fashion a hero puppet and create a storyboard of their heroic legend.

Also, be sure to check out the Hero's Hall of Fame for examples of people who have done extraordinary good and brave acts to help other people.

- Jeffery Morris, Museum Curator